Flowchart

1. Introduction

Sheffield Health and Social Care NHS Foundation Trust (“the Trust”) recognises that retaining skilled and experienced employees is central to the achievement of its business goals and objectives. The Trust is committed to considering flexible and supportive family friendly practices and arrangements which enable all employees to balance their work and careers with their other commitments and responsibilities, whilst also balancing these needs with the Trust’s business aims.

This policy explains what an employment break entails and sets out the conditions of the scheme for both the Trust and its employees.

2. Scope

The Employment Break Scheme is open to all employees of the Trust who have a minimum of 12 months continuous service.

3. Purpose

The aim of the Employment Break Scheme is to provide an opportunity for employees to take prolonged periods of unpaid leave, during which they will be kept in touch with the organisation and after which they may return to the Trust and resume a role.

4. Definitions

AfC - Agenda for Change.

ESR - Electronic Staff Record

5. Detail of the policy (title needs to be changed as appropriate)

Please refer to Section 1.

6. Duties

6.1. Employees

Employees applying to take an employment break are responsible for the following:

- Ensuring that they apply in writing, using the proforma at Appendix A, at least three months in advance of the intended date of the commencement of the break.
- Ensuring that, where applicable, they maintain their professional registration and that they keep updated regarding their career and with the Trust’s activities.
- Informing their line manager of any change to their personal circumstances, including changes to their address and other contact details.
- Keeping in touch with their line manager as agreed prior to the break.
- Requesting any extensions to the break in writing, giving the appropriate amount of notice.

- Giving notice of their return to work and returning at the agreed time (failure to return when agreed without reasonable cause may result in actions under the disciplinary policy).
- Should the employee not wish to return from the break, they will be responsible for resigning in writing and giving the contractual amount of notice required.
- To investigate and understand any effects on their pension before commencing any employment break.

6.2. Line managers

Line managers are responsible for the following:

- Careful consideration of any requests received and only refusing requests due to demonstrable and legitimate business reasons.
- Advising employees, in writing, when breaks have been agreed.
- Keeping those employees on an Employment Break informed and in touch with the department and the Trust by maintaining good communications throughout the duration of the break.
- Discussing any development needs with employees on their return to work and for establishing a new development plan as necessary
- Keeping records of all applications for Employment Breaks and decisions for a minimum of twelve months or the duration of the Break, whichever is longer.
- Ensuring that the relevant payroll documentation is completed at the start and end of an employment break
- Ensuring if an employee returns to work within one year that the same job will be available, as far as is reasonably practicable
- Ensuring if an employee returns to work after a year or more employment break that the employee may return to as similar job as possible applying the principles of the redeployment policy if required

6.3. Directors/Heads of Service

Directors/ Heads of Service will be responsible for the following:

- Considering recommendations from line managers as to approval or refusal of an Employment Break and confirming the final decision

6.4. Human Resources

Human Resources will be responsible for the following:

- 6.4.1 Providing advice to both managers and employees regarding the Employment Break scheme and its terms and conditions.

6.4.2 Before the Employment Break begins employers must therefore make arrangements to collect the appropriate contributions from the employee continuously during the break. Arrears cannot be allowed to accumulate.

6.4.3 If an employee wishes to terminate their contract of employment during an employment break they must do so by giving the written notice required according to their contract of employment. i

6.4.4 Failure to return on the specified date without seeking a formal extension of leave may be considered as unauthorised leave that may be reviewed under the disciplinary policy. Such a decision will only be made after a formal hearing has taken place under the Trust's Disciplinary Policy and will allow the employee the opportunity to either attend in person or offer a written submission.

6.5 Review and Monitoring

6.5.1 All records of applications and decisions should be kept for a minimum of twelve months.

6.5.2 The operation of the scheme should be monitored annually by employers in partnership with local staff representatives.

7. Procedure

7.1. Length of Break

7.1.1 The minimum length of an Employment Break is three months and the maximum 5 years.

7.1.2 The length of the break should balance the needs of the applicant with the needs of the service

7.1.3 Breaks can be taken either as a single period or over more than one period, however the total length of all periods of absence must not exceed 5 years per employee, during employment with the Trust.

7.1.4 There may be occasions where, if the complete period requested is not possible, a proportion of the total period could be offered.

7.2. Eligibility

7.2.1 The opportunity to participate in the scheme is open to all members of staff with a minimum of 12 months continuous service with the Trust.

7.2.2 Applications for an Employment Break could be considered on the grounds of:

- Childcare
- Elder care
- Care for another dependent
- Training, including undertaking degree or other courses
- Study leave
- Work abroad, including charity or voluntary work
- Extended period of travel abroad
- Health and Wellbeing
- Disability

This list is not intended to be exhaustive and all other reasons will be considered on their merits, taking into account the reason for the request and the operational needs of the service.

7.2.3 Employees who have a 'live' Warning issued under any of the Trust's policies or who are working to an informal /formal performance framework will not be excluded from eligibility to apply for an employment break. Where one is granted, however, any unexpired term of a "live" Warning issued under any of the Trust's policies will continue following the return to work.

7.2.4. Where a formal investigation has been commissioned under any of the Trust's policies, an employment break will not be granted. Applications may be submitted when the outcome of the investigation is known.

7.2.5 This scheme is not to be used where an employee is leaving to undertake other paid/unpaid employment

7.2.6 To be eligible to apply for any further employment break absence, staff must have a minimum of five years' continuous employment since their last break.

7.3. Application for Employment Break

7.3.1 All requests for an Employment Break must be made in writing to the line manager by completing the form at Appendix A, indicating the reason for the request. Requests should normally be submitted at least three months in advance of the proposed start date of the Break unless there are exceptional circumstances, and the manager will be required to meet with the applicant to discuss the request within 14 calendar days of receipt. The employee will have the right to be represented by a Trade Union Representative or a workplace colleague not acting in a professional or legal capacity.

Following the meeting, the line manager will make a recommendation to the Director/Head of Service or nominated representative for consideration, who will approve or refuse the request. The decision should then be confirmed in writing to the employee within 10 calendar days of the meeting, using either Appendix B or Appendix C. Should the request for the Break be rejected, the reasons for the rejection must also be included in this letter.

7.3.2. There is no right of appeal contained here, should an employee be dissatisfied that the process has not been followed they may choose to follow the Trust Grievance Policy.

7.3.3. There is no guarantee that an application for a Employment break will be accepted. Employees should not commit themselves to plans before their application for an Employment break has been agreed.

7.3.4. On receipt of the application, the manager will consider the following points:

- The purpose of, or reasons for, the Employment break
- The period of absence requested.
- The number and length of any previous employment breaks taken.
- The number, length and reasons for any previous absence.
- The operational needs of the Trust and the team
- The need to retain the employee's skills, knowledge and experience.
- The potential to be able to cover the post on a temporary basis.
- The potential benefits of the proposed employment break

7.3.5 If agreed, the terms of the Employment Break should be arrived at through discussions between the manager and the applicant and laid down in an Employment Break Agreement (see Appendix B). This may be amended at a future date should circumstances change and again this must be by mutual agreement between the manager and the applicant. Once agreed, copies of both Appendix A and Appendix B should be forwarded either electronically by email to HR or via post to the Human Resources Team. The appropriate change should be made to the employee's record on ESR by the line manager.

7.4. Other Employment During an Employment Break

7.4.1 Some Employment Breaks may be requested to undertake a period of paid employment overseas and this will be permitted, especially where the skills learned during the period of the break will enhance the employee's skills on returning to substantive employment at the Trust.

7.4.2 However employees must not undertake paid employment in this country with another employer without the prior written agreement of the line manager and an Employment Break will not be granted to allow a period of paid employment with another employer at home. Where this is the reason for the request, a secondment to the other organisation may be considered or else the request declined.

If an employee requests permission to undertake paid employment whilst on a career break, the employee should be supported unless it is deemed the job is conflicting with their current role within the Trust

7.4.3 If it is discovered that an employee has commenced working elsewhere without permission, it may be appropriate for disciplinary action to be considered on their return.

7.5. Keeping in Touch During an Employment Break

7.5.1 The key to a successful Employment Break is maintaining regular and effective communication between the employee and the manager. The methods and regularity of communication between the two parties should be agreed between them prior to the commencement of the break and should form part of the Employment Break Agreement (see Appendix B), and as an example, should involve the manager sending the following to the employee:

- Team briefs
- Minutes of departmental meetings
- Details of vacancies
- Invitations to departmental social events
- Details of relevant training courses
- Any other information relevant at the time, either relating to the whole organisation or the individual department
- Details of departmental and/or organisational change.

The Trust will also provide the employee with a number of days paid employment per annum as agreed.

The employee may:

- i. Make themselves available for paid employment with the Trust of up to 10 days during the break, especially in the period immediately prior to the return.
- ii. Attend seminars or meetings (not necessarily with pay).
- iii. Attend appropriate training sessions as specified by the Trust for the purpose of updating/refreshing their knowledge and skills.
- iv. Maintain subscription to a relevant professional journal and ensuring up-to-date knowledge through attendance at professional meetings or societies etc, where appropriate.

7.5.2 During the break the employee will be expected to maintain their professional membership and/or state registration where appropriate.

Make available to the employee any facilities offered to other staff.

7.5.3 The Trust will also nominate a personal point of contact for the employee during their break from permanent employment.

7.5.4 Employees must also inform their manager of any changes in personal circumstances, for example, change of name, address and other contact details etc, and should contact their manager on a regular basis during the duration of the break, either by telephone, e-mail or in person, It is expected that this would mean contact at least every 6 months.

7.5.5 It must be recognised and understood by both parties that an Employment Break will only work with mutual commitment to these objectives.

Where any of the above are not practicable then the necessary alternative arrangements should be specified. The relevant measures agreed should be recorded and a copy provided to the employee.

7.6 Returning to Work

7.6.1 The employee must give their manager the minimum advance notice of their intention to return (in writing) of:

Up to 1 year break - 2 months

More than 1 year break - 6 months

7.6.2 There should be a guarantee that, if the applicant returns to work within one year, the same job will be available, as far as is reasonably practicable.

7.6.3 If the break is longer than one year, the applicant may return to as similar a job as possible.

If the member of staff has been absent for over 12 months the Trust will endeavour to assist the employee to find a post involving broadly similar duties and of similar status to their previous job, in accordance with the Trust's Redeployment Policy. This will include:

- i. Upon the notification of the intention to return to work, the manager will meet with the individual to discuss the current vacancy situation.
- ii. Arrangements will be made to ensure that the employee receives the Trust vacancy bulletin, and is informed of appropriate vacancies.

- iii. The manager will be responsible for informing the Human Resources Department to ensure vacancies are advertised via the internal network and the redeployment service concurrently.
- iv. The employee will be invited to apply for suitable vacancies in the normal way. Any application for re-employment will be considered favourably.
- v. On returning from the employment break the employee will resume on the same banding and pay point that they received before the break'

7.6.4 Return to work will be subject to the employee being fit to carry out the duties of the post, and a medical assessment will be required.

7.6.5 When returning to work, the employee will undergo an appropriate period of re-orientation and induction. This may include:

- A re-induction course (local to the workplace)
- Continuing on and off the job training
- Additional management support
- Attendance at a Corporate Induction course if appropriate and/or completion of mandatory training e-learning modules
- A nominated person to give peer support
- A review at the end of 3 months (see Appendix x)

7.7 Extension to Employment Break

7.7.1 Employees wishing to extend the agreed length of their Employment Break will only be allowed to do so if cover arrangements may also be extended. Any extensions must not exceed the 5 year maximum break.

7.7.2 Employees must give a minimum of three months' notice of their intention to extend their Employment Break.

7.7.3 Requests for an extension must be made in writing and be approved by the Line Manager.

7.7.4 Where an extension is refused, the employee will have the right to request a review by the Line Manager's manager. The reviewing manager's decision will be final with no further right of appeal.

7.8. General Conditions

7.8.1 Applicants should not have to resign to take an employment break, although there may be a change to the contract of employment.

7.8.2 The period of the break should count toward continuous employment for statutory purposes. Periods of paid employment with the Trust during the break will count towards reckonable service.

7.8.3 Sick Pay Entitlement

An employee is not entitled to Occupational Sick Pay (OSP) whilst on an Employment Break, but provided that the employee complies with the conditions of the scheme, the periods of service prior to and following the Employment Break can be aggregated for entitlement to OSP (Entitlement to Statutory Sick Pay (SSP) is covered by Statute).

7.8.4 Maternity Leave

Any Employment Break period will count towards the qualifying period for entitlement to paid maternity leave following that Employment Break (Entitlement to Statutory Maternity Pay (SMP) is covered by Statute). The same applies to individuals who are on adoption leave, paternity leave or shared parental leave.

7.8.5. Annual Leave

By definition, there is no entitlement to annual leave during the Employment Break itself. Any annual leave accrued before the break must be taken prior to commencement as this will not be carried forward and cannot be paid in lieu. For the purposes of entitlement to long service annual leave the period on the Employment Break does not count, but service before and after the break should be aggregated.

The employee will not be entitled to payment for any Bank/Public holiday that falls within the period of the employment break.

7.8.6. Annual Increment

Incremental credit on salary scales will not accrue during an employment break.

Incremental credit will be given on return of the retainees and any incremental dates will be recalculated in accordance with the appropriate terms and conditions of service'

7.8.7 Pay Protection

If the Employment Break is for 12 months or more, the period of pay protection will be freeze and resume unless a change in circumstance in line with pay protection policy, incorporated into the period of the break. There will be no pay during the period of the Employment Break and pay protection will only be reinstated on the employee's return to work if there is any protection entitlement remaining.

7.8.8 Redundancy Rights

Other provisions depending upon length of service, i.e. contractual redundancy payments, leave entitlements etc, should be suspended for the period of the break. The period of the career break is excluded from the calculation, will count as reckonable service

7.8.9 Lease Cars

Employees with a lease car will be entitled to retain the lease car for private use until the expiry of the lease, or alternatively employees may return the car. They may, however, be liable to pay a termination fee for early termination of the lease. If employees choose to retain the car, they will be responsible for the total cost including the contribution which would have been made by the Trust. They will be required to submit monthly mileage returns for monitoring purposes. Employees will also undertake to meet any excess costs at the end of the lease contract period.

7.8.10 Salary sacrifice

Employees participating in salary sacrifice schemes, e.g. Childcare Vouchers, must notify the providers of their commencement on an Employment Break and reduction in salary so that appropriate changes can be made to the repayment schemes.

7.8.11 Employees who are members of the pension scheme have the option to remain pensionable in the scheme for a period of 6 months whilst on an Employment Break and thereafter can choose to be pensionable for a further period of 18 months. If they choose this they must pay employee contributions for the first 6 months and both employee and employer contributions for the next 18 months.

8. Development, Consultation and approval

The following individuals were involved in developing and approving this policy –

- Consultation with Staff Side - verified by the Joint Policy Group October 2019 and the status of the policy noted at the Joint Consultative Forum 14th October 2019 (and 27th November 2019).
- Policy Governance Group and Executive Directors' Group to approve the policy in November 2019.
- The Equality Impact Assessment will be undertaken and stored separately in conjunction with Corporate Governance and the Head of Equality and Inclusion.

Changes made to this version of the policy are noted in the amendment log.

The policy review date is 31st December 2023.

9. Audit, monitoring and review

This section should describe how the implementation and impact of the policy will be monitored and audited. It should include timescales and frequency of audits. If the policy is required to meet a particular standard, it must say how and when compliance with the standard will be audited.

EMPLOYMENT BREAK SCHEME TERMS AND CONDITIONS Terms and Conditions

Dear,

I am pleased to confirm that your application to take an Employment Break has been approved. Please find below the terms, conditions and obligations of the Scheme.

Terms of the Employment Break Scheme

For a full explanation of the terms and conditions, please refer to the attached Policy Document.

1. Your Employment Break will commence on.....
2. You have indicated that you wish to return to work after years/months on the Employment Break Scheme. When you intend to return to work, you will give notice of your intended date of return. This will be at least 2 months (where the break is for up to one year) or 6 months (where the break is one year or more).
3. In the event that it is necessary to vary or delay the date of your return, the reasons for this will be explained to you and a new date for your return will be agreed with you. The maximum period of delay will be 2 months.
4. You undertake to keep me informed of any change of personal circumstances, specifically your contact details, but in particular any change in your plans for your return to work.

5. You undertake to keep up-to-date with developments within the Department and within your profession and to spend a period of 10 days per year at work to keep up to date. In addition, you will spend a minimum of 2 days per year on training to refresh and update your skills. *OR

I have has agreed to waive the requirement to spend a period of 10 days per year at work to keep up to date and the 2 days training per year to refresh and update your skills because you are living or undertaking voluntary work overseas and it is not practicable for you to return to the UK for this purpose.*

(N.B. * delete the option above which does not apply.)

6. If you allow your registration to lapse whilst you are on your Employment Break it is your responsibility to ensure that you re-register prior to your intended date of return to work.

7. The Trust undertakes to:-

- a) Enable you to return to work in approximately..... years / months.

If you return to work within one year, the same job will be available, as far as is reasonably practicable. If however the break exceeds one year, you will be offered working hours and a post on a grade commensurate with the post you held prior to the break being taken. Where you are required to return to a different base, you will not be eligible to claim excess daily travel expenses.

- b) Provide you with opportunities during your Employment Break for work update and training and for regular contact to be maintained with you, as agreed with me.
- c) Devise an agreed re-entry programme to facilitate your return to work, as agreed between.

8. Pay Protection

If your Employment Break break is for 12 months or more and you are in receipt of pay protection at the commencement of your Employment Break break, the remaining period of pay protection will be incorporated into the period of your Employment break.

9. Excess Mileage

If you are entitled to claim excess mileage at the commencement of your Employment Break, the period for which you are able to claim excess mileage will be incorporated into the period of your Employment Break.

10. Annual Increment

Incremental credit on salary scales will not accrue during an employment break.

However, incremental credit will be given on return of the retaine to a post of the same grade or below, any incremental dates will be recalculated in accordance with the appropriate terms and conditions of service.

11. NHS Pension Scheme Options

You have indicated in your application that you wish to continue to pay your pension whilst on Employment Break /do not wish to pay your pension whilst on employment break* (delete as appropriate),

Please note that it is the responsibility of the employee to make the arrangements to pay the pension contributions to SHSC. You should therefore contact our Finance team to make the necessary arrangements .Failure to do so will mean that your pension contributions will not be paid and a late payment will mean that your membership of the NHS Pension Scheme will not be continued and no further contribution will be accepted. (delete this paragraph if employee has opted not to continue to pay pension during the employment breakbreak)

12. Other Terms and Conditions

Other terms and conditions applying to an Employment Break Break which concern continuity of service, sick leave, maternity leave, annual leave, redundancy rights, pension, salary sacrifice and lease cars etc. are as detailed in the Trust's Employment Break policy document. Please ensure that you have read and understood these before signing the attached Acceptance of Terms and Conditions.

I am enclosing two copies of this document. You should sign and return one copy to me. The second copy is for your own records.

Yours sincerely

APPENDIX C – Template letter from Line Manager where application for Employment Break is rejected

Dear

I am writing further to your application for an Employment Break and our meeting on (date of meeting) where this was discussed. You were accompanied at the meeting by (name of representative or work colleague) OR you chose not to be accompanied.

Following our discussion, and having discussed your application with (name of Service Director or nominated representative) I regret to inform you that the Trust is unable to support your application at this time. The reason(s) for this decision is/are:

INSERT REASONS FOR REFUSAL OF EMPLOYMENT BREAK

Under the Employment Break Scheme Policy, you are able to resort to the Trust's Grievance Procedure if you are dissatisfied with this decision,

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you have any queries regarding this letter,

Yours sincerely
